

UC Berkeley - Radio Telescope Undergraduate Lab

Feed Assembly

- Notes:
1. The fiber optic cable is tethered between the antenna feed and the observatory. The cable is installed in steel conduit for protection.
 2. The link loss for the optical transceiver is the power loss from the input of the optical transmitter to the output of the optical receiver. The link loss in this system is -30db

Observatory

Campbell Hall

